

Video transcript

Safety

Bites and scratches are part of keeping reptiles. If you're ever scratched or bitten it's general first aid cleans it up. Now, because reptiles live in confined enclosures what you want to do also is clean your hands every time you handle those reptiles. So, what I use whenever I'm cleaning my hands is F10 it's also a really good cleaning product to keep all your enclosures clean. So, it's always readily available.